

New Rosslyn to Springfield/ Burke Slug Line

Location: North Kent Street

Beginning on October 20, a new slug line started in Rosslyn on North Kent Street, located about 300 yards from the Rosslyn Metro station.

Riders – How to Get to North Kent Street from the Rosslyn Metro Station

Use the North Moore St. exit and turn right. Turn left onto Wilson Blvd. and proceed east down the hill about 2 blocks. Turn left onto North Kent Street. The slug line is about 100 feet on the right, starting at the speed-limit sign.

Drivers – How to Get to North Kent Street

Go east on Wilson Blvd. and turn left on North Kent Street. The slug line is about 100 feet on the right at the speed-limit sign. North Kent is a one-way street, so after picking up riders, you have two options:

- Bear left onto 19th Street and turn right onto North Lynn Street. Go one block to Lee Highway which becomes the on-ramp to Rte. 66 and turn right. Immediately after entering Rte. 66, the lane becomes the exit to Rte. 110. Bear right onto Rte. 110.
- Follow North Kent Street to Arlington Ridge Road and turn right. At the end of Arlington Ridge Road, you will go straight across Wilson Blvd. onto the Rte. 110 on-ramp.

All drivers, please remember to pull up to the curb as close as possible, don't double-park or block other cars and be courteous to others.

For more information about slug lines, visit www.Slug-lines.com.
For more information about carpooling, transit, and other commuting alternatives in the DC Metro area, visit www.CommuterPage.com.

